Call to Action

The Call to Action button would be the buttons that prompts the user to perform a specific action which is to click on them which transfers the user to specific pages on the website. It should be graphically pleasing so the fewer the words, the stronger. The position should be simple and logical, with a large enough contrast to capture attention while the text should be straightforward and easy to grasp.

The UrbanGlass organization has two main audiences which are those wishing to donate to their cause while the other is those wishing to know more about the organization and potentially join a course or classes so based on these two main audiences, I created two buttons while the donation being more important while the mission is second. To make the donation button more important, I made the button a main color
